14981840:

Slavery in the Arab World Murray Gordon, 1989 a comprehensive portrait of slavery in the Islamic world from earliest times until today D Arab Book World      The Venezuela-Guyana Border Dispute Jacqueline A. Braveboy-wagner, J Braveboy-Wagner, 2019-07-11 The expiration in 1982 of the Protocol of Port of Spain reheated a border dispute between Venezuela and Guyana that had been frozen since 1970 Almost at once Venezuelan ultranationalists asserted the need to recover by force the Essequibo region of Guyana two thirds of that country which Venezuela had long claimed While rejecting force as a solution the Venezuelan government has indicated that the Protocol will not be renewed thus pushing the economically and politically vulnerable Guyana toward new and uncertain negotiations This book describes the actors and their stake in the conflict the capacity of each to develop the disputed region and the implications of the Venezuelan claim for both sides Incorporating a critical examination of the conflict s historical legal background Dr Braveboy Wagner chronicles the progress of the dispute through its various stages and describes the attempts of both sides to elicit outside support especially from other Third World nations Finally she assesses the possibilities for a solution by force and by compromise and considers the potential for U S involvement      Ivory and Slaves in East Central Africa Edward A. Alpers, 2023-11-10 Professor Shepperson says of this regional economic history of East Central Africa that it is a refreshing combination of a scholarly survey of a relatively new field of African history and of a contribution to an important controversy on African underdevelopment Alpers has written a history of the penetration and changing character of international trade in East Central Africa from the fifteenth to the later nineteenth century His study focuses on a vast and little known region that includes southern Tanzania northern Mozambique and Malawi with extension north along the Swahili coast and west as far as the Lunda state of the Mwata Kazembe He examines both the competition between traders and their internal impact on the various societies of East Central Africa Alpers main concern is to demonstrate that the historical roots of underdevelopment in the area are to be found in the system of international trade which was initiated by Arabs in the fifteenth century seized and extended by the Portuguese in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries dominated by a complex mixture of Indian Arab and Western capitalisms in the nineteenth century Thus this readable and original book places East African trading systems within the larger Western Indian Ocean system and in the world capitalist system This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1975      Cargoes of the East Esmond Bradley Martin, Chryssee Martin, 1978      Seaports and Development B. S. Hoyle, 2012-07-26 This book originally published in 1983 demonstrates the importance of seaports in the growth of less developed countries The author focuses on the character of port activity within the context of transport systems and regional economic planning General principles of port development are illustrated by detailed reference to one Third World port group that of the Indian Ocean coasts of Kenya and Tanzania The objective is not merely to illustrate the character of one specific group of ports but to demonstrate methods of analysis and to underline the crucial role of ports in the development process Water-resources Investigations Report ,1998 Monthly Summary, Solar Radiation Data ,1981 History of Windsor County, Vermont Lewis Cass Aldrich, Frank R. International Scientific Committee for the Drafting of a General History of Africa, 1999 The African-Asian Divide Paul Vandenberg, 2013-09-13 Why have Africans not gained a more dominant position in urban manufacturing in Kenya This question is explored through an analysis of the institutions both formal and informal that have affected patterns of capital accumulation in Kenya by the African and Asian Indian communities Using a new institutional economics approach this book explores the history of economic activity through the pre colonial colonial and post colonial periods including the transformative period of British rule During the colonial period Asians were brought in to build the railways and subsequently focused on urban based activities Africans meanwhile found it difficult to move out of agriculture Thus the ethnic sectoral division of activities was entrenched by the formal laws and powers of the British Following independence the network and financial capital that Asians had built up allowed them to survive early attempts at the Africanization of industry Africans now supported by the formal institutions of the state still found it difficult to engage in manufacturing because they lacked the informal networks that support trade and credit The analysis is supported by the results of a contemporary survey of 120 manufacturing firms in Nairobi s metal sector that highlight the division between smaller African firms and larger Asian ones Geohydrology of the Winchester Subbasin, Riverside County, California ,1998 The World of the Swahili John Middleton, 1992-01-01 The Swahili of East Africa have a long and distinctive history as a literate Muslim urban and mercantile society This book presents an anthropological account of the Swahili and offers an original analysis of their little understood and unusual culture Bulletin of the Treasury Department United States. and ex slaves on the Kenya coast and of the obstacles placed in their way by the British the Busaidi Arabs and the peoples of the coast Efforts to escape slavery are as old as slavery itself on the Kenya coast but the principal story begins in 1873 when Britain pressured the sultan of Zanzibar to abolish the ocean going slave trade Thereafter political and military conflict intensified on the coast while opportunities for slaves to escape increased accordingly This period ending roughly with the abolition of the legal status of slavery in 1907 corresponds to the imperial scramble from its earliest stages to the effective establishment of European rule
