Universalising International Law C.G. Weeramantry, 2004-04-01 Universalising international law is one of the most urgent tasks awaiting those who wish to advance the discipline Though all the world acknowledges its universal nature it has long been confined in a largely monocultural mould Indeed a tendency is sometimes discernible for international law to be compartmentalised and to function within a close cabinet of technical rules little known to those outside the ranks of specialists This volume looks initially at some general aspects of universalisation It thereafter adopts a universalist approach to some of the sources of international law and it deals with peace the bedrock of international law which likewise requires a universalist approach It is hoped that these studies will highlight the imperative need that now exists for extending the conceptual framework of international law thereby buttressing its moral authority and widening its appeal at a time when universal acceptance of international law is one of the most pressing demands of the international system Administration Report on the Railways in India India.
