Control of Violence Wilhelm Heitmeyer, Heinz-Gerhard Haupt, Stefan Malthaner, Andrea Kirschner, 2010-11-04 The Control of Violence in Modern Society starts from the hypothesis that in modern society we will face an increasing loss of control over certain phenomena of violence This leads to unpredictable escalations and violence can no longer be contained adequately by the relevant control regimes such as police state surveillance institutions national repression apparatuses and international law However before investigating this hypothesis from an internationally and historically comparative perspective the terms and tools for this undertaking have to be rendered more precisely Since both control and violence are all but clear cut terms but rather highly debatable and contested concepts that may take multiple connotations The main question is whether an increase in certain forms of violence can be explained by the failure or in turn overeffectiveness of certain control mechanisms It is asked for instance which contribution religion can make to limit violence and in turn which destructive potential religion might have in its fundamentalist form Moreover the concept of individual self control as well as social institutions and strategies of collective disengagement and de radicalization are investigated with regard to their potential for controlling violence The Control of Violence in Modern Society concludes with a re examination of the hypothesis of a loss of control by specifying in what cases and under which circumstances we can speak of a loss of control over violence Targeted Drug Delivery Yogeshwar Bachhav, 2022-10-24 Targeted Drug Delivery Novel approaches in targeted drug delivery for both small molecule and biopharmaceutical drugs Targeted Drug Delivery explores a new frontier in drug research that has become a focus for developing novel medications The work discusses a wide range of approaches for targeting small molecules as well as peptide and macromolecular drugs from prodrugs to drug conjugates to drug carriers and devices helping readers to stay up to date on the latest developments in the field The following key topics are addressed Antibody conjugates prodrugs and suicide gene therapeutics Protac technology for selectively degrading target proteins Delivery of nucleic acid drugs Novel drug carriers such as liposomes vesicles and nanoparticles Unmet medical needs for which there is a large market potential such as viral infections and cancer For chemists pharmacologists and professionals in the wider pharmaceutical industry Targeted Drug Delivery is a comprehensive guide on how to solve the greatest challenge in treating many diseases delivering a pharmaceutically active substance to the target tissue in the body

The Writing of History and the Study of Law Donald R. Kelley, 2024-10-28 This second volume of essays by Professor Kelley takes the study of history as its starting point then extends explorations into adjacent fields of legal political and social thought to confront some of the larger questions of the modern human sciences The first group of papers examine the historiography of the Protestant Reformation and then of the Romantic and Victorian periods the last section focuses on the legal tradition and its interpretation in relation to social and cultural as well as historical thought in the period from the Renaissance to the French Revolution Throughout the author s interest is to analyse how people at different times have viewed their past and reconstructed and utilised it in the service of their present concerns Explaining Social

Texas Gulf Sulphur Company* ,1973 Harvest of Souls Carole Blackburn,2004 In 1632 Jesuit missionary Paul Le Jeune newly arrived at the fort of Quebec wrote the first of the Relations to his superior in Paris initiating a series of biannual mission reports that came to be known as the Jesuit Relations In Harvest of Souls Carole Blackburn presents a contemporary interpretation of the 1632 1650 Relations arguing that they are colonizing texts in which the Jesuits use language imagery and forms of knowledge to legitimize relations of inequality with the Huron and Montagnais

By combining textual analysis with an ethnographic study of the Jesuits Blackburn is able to reveal the gap between the domineering language of the Relations and the limited authority that the Jesuits were able to exercise over Native people who actively challenged much of what the Jesuits tried to do and say She highlights the struggle between the Jesuits and Natives over the meaning of Christianity The Jesuits attempted to convey their Christian message through Native languages and cultural idioms Blackburn shows that this resulted in the displacement of much of the content of the message and demonstrates that the Native people s acts of resistance took up and transformed aspects of the Jesuits teachings in ways that subverted their authority

Dangerous Liaisons Roger Davidson, 2016-08-22 This book explores the role of Venereal Disease in shaping perceptions of sexuality in twentieth century Scotland and in defining the response of the Modern State to patterns of sexual behaviour It examines how civic medical and political authorities reacted to the Hideous Scourge in times of peace and war and how far policy was informed by anxieties surrounding social change and public morality as much as by the incidence of disease and developments in medical knowledge It focuses in particular on the moral assumptions underpinning epidemiological debate and the various dimensions of stigmatisation and control within VD discourse including gender generation and class This study also highlights the protracted campaign in Scotland for legal controls over those suffering from VD and the enduring problem resurrected by the threat of HIV and AIDS of balancing the demands of public health against those of civil liberties in the regulation of dangerous sexualities

Warraparna Kurna! Rob Amery, 2016-02-22 This book tells the story of the renaissance of the Kurna language the language of Adelaide and the Adelaide Plains in South Australia principally over the earliest period up until 2000 but with a summary and brief discussion of developments from 2000 until 2016 It chronicles and analyses the efforts of the Nunga community and interested others to reclaim and relearn a linguistic heritage on the basis of mid nineteenth century materials This study is breaking new ground In the Kurna case very little knowledge of the language remained within the Aboriginal community Yet the Kurna language has become an important marker of identity and a means by which Kurna people can further the struggle for recognition reconciliation and liberation This work challenges widely held beliefs as to what is possible in language revival and questions notions about the very nature of language and its development
