A Philosophy of Landscape Construction Bruce Ferguson, 2020-12-30 A Philosophy of Landscape Construction outlines a philosophy of values in landscape construction demonstrating how integral structures such as pavements and walls constitute a key element to how people interact with and inhabit the final design The book discusses how these structures enable assist and care for people negotiating between the dynamic processes of site ecosystems and the soil on which they are founded They articulate spatial functional cultural and ecological meanings Within this theoretical framework designers will learn to recognize and insert a set of core values into the most technical design stages to reach their full potential By offering a new perspective on landscape construction moving away from the exclusively technical characteristics this book allows landscape architects to realise the ideal vision for their designs It is abundantly illustrated with examples from which designers can learn both successes and failures and will be an essential companion to any study of built landscapes

Telling Chinese History Frederic E. Wakeman, 2009-03-10 Frederic Wakeman's scholarship is impeccable and the breadth of learning in this book is astounding I repeatedly found myself slowing down to savor the material Many of the essays in this collection are no longer easily accessible and placing them together in a single volume will be a great benefit to the next generation of students and scholars Joseph W Esherick author of The Origins of the Boxer Uprising This book brings together the best of Frederic Wakeman's articles all of which are beautifully written and represent the remarkable breadth of Wakeman's research The opportunity to read them together sheds new light on Chinese history and on the thought processes of one of the West's greatest historians Madeleine Zelin Director of the East Asian National Resource Center at Columbia University

The Politics of Culture in the Shadow of Capital Lisa Lowe, David Lloyd, 1997-11-17 DIV Coming from a broad cross section of academic disciplines and theoretical positions this collection of essays questions and reworks Marxist critiques of capitalism that center on the West and which posit a uniform model of development More specifically div

The Medieval Prison G. Geltner, 2018-06-05 The modern prison is commonly thought to be the fruit of an Enlightenment penology that stressed man's ability to reform his soul The Medieval Prison challenges this view by tracing the institution's emergence to a much earlier period beginning in the late thirteenth century and in doing so provides a unique view of medieval prison life G Geltner carefully reconstructs life inside the walls of prisons in medieval Venice Florence Bologna and elsewhere in Europe He argues that many enduring features of the modern prison including administration finance and the classification of inmates were already developed by the end of the fourteenth century and that incarceration as a formal punishment was far more widespread in this period than is often realized Geltner likewise shows that inmates in medieval prisons unlike their modern counterparts enjoyed frequent contact with society at large The prison typically stood in the heart of the medieval city and inmates were not locked away but rather subjected to a more coercive version of ordinary life Geltner explores every facet of this remarkable prison experience from the terror of an inmate's arrest to the moment of his release, escape or death and the ways it was viewed by contemporary observers. The Medieval Prison rewrites penal history and reveals that medieval society did not have a persecuting mentality but in fact was more nuanced in defining and dealing with its marginal elements than is commonly recognized. Seawater and Desalting A.

Delyannis, E.-E. Delyannis, 2012-12-06 Transferring Food Production Technology To Developing Nations Joseph J Molnar, 2019-06-18 This book explores the social, economic and policy problems associated with introducing new agriculture and aquaculture technology to developing nations as a means for expanding food supplies and increasing well-being. The contributors examine three general facets of planning for technology transfer and consider methodologies that enable effective Thinking Globally and Responding Locally in the Church Thomas Knieps-Port le Roi, Shaji George Kochuthara, David Dawson Vasquez, 2023 How has Pope Francis's groundbreaking document on marriage and family, Amoris Laetitia, been implemented in Africa, In Asia, In Latin America? In this volume, scholars from across these regions reflect on their experiences, correcting the overly western focus of most reactions to AL. The contributions look at local issues like polygamy in Africa as well as more global issues in a local context like feminism in Indonesia and synodality in Colombia. The reader will find that concerns about marriage and family can be similar throughout the world or specific to different contexts. As a whole, the book contributes to a more diverse and revisited Catholic understanding of marriage and family. The Kings of Algiers Julie Kalman, 2023-11-14 A richly detailed history of the Bacris and the Busnachs, two renowned Jewish families whose influence and reputation shook the capitals of Europe and America. At the height of the Napoleonic Wars, the Bacri brothers and their nephew Naphtali Busnach were perhaps the most notorious Jews in the Mediterranean. Based in the strategic port of Algiers, their interconnected families traded in raw goods and luxury items, brokered diplomatic relations with the Ottomans and lent vital capital to warring nations. For the French, British and Americans who competed fiercely for access to trade and influence in the region, there was no getting around the Bacris and the Busnachs. The Kings of Algiers traces the rise and fall of these two trading families over four tumultuous decades in the nineteenth century. In this panoramic book, Julie Kalman restores their story and Jewish history more broadly to the histories of trade, corsairing and high-stakes diplomacy in the Mediterranean during the Napoleonic Wars and their aftermath. Jacob Bacri dined with Napoleon himself; Thomas Jefferson, James Madison and Horatio Nelson considered strategies to circumvent the Bacris' influence. As the families' ambitions grew, so did the perils from imprisonment and assassination to fraud and family collapse. The Kings of Algiers brings vividly to life an age of competitive imperialism and nascent nationalism and demonstrates how people and events on the periphery shaped perceptions and decisions in the distant metropolises of the world's great nations.

Recent Developments in Geometry Robert Everist Greene, 1989 This volume is the outgrowth of a Special Session on Geometry held at the November 1987 meeting of the AMS at the University of California at Los Angeles. The unusually well attended session attracted more than sixty participants and featured over forty addresses by some of the day's outstanding geometers. By common consent it was decided that the papers to be collected in the present volume should be surveys of relatively broad areas of geometry rather than detailed presentations of new research results. A comprehensive survey of the field is beyond the scope of a volume such as this. Nonetheless the editors have sought to provide all geometers whatever their specialties with some insight into recent developments in a variety of topics in this active area of research.

Women, Gender, Religion E. Castelli, R. Rodman, 2001-01-01 This up to date and forward looking collection of essays on gender and religion fills a crucial gap. Interdisciplinary and multi traditional this volume highlights the contributions that different disciplinary approaches make to feminist gender studies and religion. Designed for the classroom the Reader simultaneously assesses the state of the field and raises questions for further inquiry and investigation.

Decolonising Imperial Heroes Max Jones, Berny Sèbe, Bertrand Taithe, Peter Yeandle, 2017-10-02 The heroes of the British and French empires stood at the vanguard of the vibrant cultures of imperialism that emerged in Europe in the second half of the nineteenth century. Their stories are well known. Scholars have tended to assume that figures such as Livingstone and Gordon or Marchand and Brazza vanished rapidly at the end of empire. Yet imperial heroes did not disappear after 1945 as British and French flags were lowered around the world. On the contrary their reputations underwent a variety of metamorphoses in both the former metropolises and the former colonies. This book develops a framework to understand the complex legacies of decolonisation both political and cultural through the case study of imperial heroes. We demonstrate that the decolonisation of imperial heroes was a much more complex and protracted process than the political retreat from empire and that it is still an ongoing phenomenon even half a century after the world has ceased to be painted in red. Whilst Decolonising Imperial Heroes explores the appeal of the explorers, humanitarians and missionaries whose stories could be told without reference to violence against colonized peoples it also analyses the persistence of imperial heroes as sites of political dispute in the former metropolises. Demonstrating that the work of remembrance was increasingly carried out by diverse fragmented groups of non state actors in a process we call the privatisation of heroes the book reveals the surprising rejuvenation of imperial heroes in former colonies both in nation building narratives and as heritage sites. This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Imperial and Commonwealth History.

Pastors and Parishioners in Württemberg During the Late Reformation, 1581-1621 Bruce Tolley, 1995 In recent decades research on the impact of the Reformation on popular religious life in Germany has sparked a controversy challenging the traditional assumption that Protestantism had a deep and lasting effect on all levels of sixteenth century life. This study uses previously neglected archival sources: the records of the Württemberg church visitations over a forty year period to investigate various areas of church life touched on by the debate. The author examines the social and cultural nature of the pastorate as a professional group, areas of conflict and agreement between representatives of the official church and the parishioners, the nature of the church visitations and the standards and expectations of the visitors concerning lay religious life and discipline Church visitations were conducted to inform higher ecclesiastical authorities about the conditions of religious life in individual parishes The visitors interviewed and reported on members of the community from all walks of life pastor mayor schoolmaster folk healer shepherd and in some cases village drunk The visitations were used to discipline the clergy and laity through exhortations warnings fines and in rare cases imprisonment The author shows that the system of penalties sanctions and persuasions had only mixed success in inhibiting un Christian behavior When the church s interest in discipline coincided with the interest of village groups in restraining profligacy or laxity the church had greater success The Wurttemberg records reveal that parishioners showed only moderate zeal in attending the principal Sunday morning service and that weekday and Sunday afternoon services were poorly attended For communion many of the laity seem to have felt that an annual participation at Easter services fulfilled their religious obligation Young people and single adults appeared most often negligent in their attendance at church sometimes because of the demands of seasonal agriculture but more often because of general indifference to the church or active resistance to the church s efforts to discipline such festive pastimes as dancing and berry picking In the process of investigating the relationship between parishioners and the state church the author presents information on the clergy s social and geographic origins education and culture and economic conditions He analyzes the attitudes and behavior surrounding popular religious practices and evaluates the church s attempts to reform and regulate family life and social mores

Style and Music Leonard B. Meyer, 2024-12-23 Leonard Meyer proposes a theory of style and style change that relates the choices made by composers to the constraints of psychology cultural context and musical traditions He explores why out of the abundance of compositional possibilities composers choose to replicate some patterns and neglect others Meyer devotes the latter part of his book to a sketch history of nineteenth century music He shows explicitly how the beliefs and attitudes of Romanticism influenced the choices of composers from Beethoven to Mahler and into our own time A monumental work Most authors concede the relation of music to its cultural milieu but few have probed so deeply in demonstrating this interaction Choice Probes the foundations of musical research precisely at the joints where theory and history fold into one another Kevin Korsyn Journal of American Musicological Society A remarkably rich and multifaceted yet unified argument No one else could have brought off this immense project with anything like Meyer s command Robert P Morgan Music Perception Anyone who attempts to deal with Romanticism in scholarly depth must bring to the task not only musical and historical expertise but unquenchable optimism Because Leonard B Meyer has those qualities in abundance he has been able to offer fresh insight into the Romantic concept Donal Henahan New York Times

Aligning Religious Law and State Law Muhammad Latif Fauzi, 2023-07-03 In Aligning Religious Law and State Law Negotiating Legal Muslim Marriage in Pasuruan East Java Muhammad Latif Fauzi investigates the extent to which the Indonesian state has regulated Muslim marriage how a local community in Pasuruan East Java practices and negotiates the regulation and how local officials deal with their practices Instead of reforming the Marriage Law which would only stir up controversies the Indonesian government has used a citizens rights approach to control marriage and to guide people towards compliance with the state legal framework In everyday practice of marriage bureaucracy the state agency in charge of Muslim marriage registration needs to maintain its image as a body capable of maintaining the proper balance between religious tradition and modern administration of a marriage The practice of Muslim marriage registration has still left some leeway in which informality can function This informality is important as it offers the capacity to make a compromise between people s deep interest in religious law and state law The state officials in charge of marriage administration on the frontier levels are amenable to adopting lenient approach towards marriage registrations which is the key to securing the functioning of state law

Postcolonial People Christoph Kalter, 2022-05-26 Having built much of their wealth power and identities on imperial expansion how did the Portuguese and by extension Europeans deal with the end of empire Postcolonial People explores the processes and consequences of decolonization through the histories of over half a million Portuguese settlers who returned following the 1974 Carnation Revolution from Angola Mozambique and other parts of Portugal s crumbling empire to their country of origin and citizenship itself undergoing significant upheaval Looking comprehensively at the returnees history and memory for the first time this book contributes to debates about colonial racism and its afterlives It studies migration refugeeness and integration to expose an apparent paradox The end of empire and the return migrations it triggered belong to a global history of the twentieth century and are shaped by transnational dynamics However they have done nothing to dethrone the primacy of the nation state If anything they have reinforced it Britain and the Growth of US Hegemony in Twentieth-Century Latin America Thomas C. Mills, Rory M. Miller, 2020-10-14 The editors have assembled an outstanding group of scholars in this very welcome addition to our understanding of Latin American external relations and British foreign policy towards the region in the 20th century Victor Bulmer Thomas Honorary Professor Institute of the Americas University College London commercial and business rivalries and responses to economic nationalism revolution and political change the individual chapters cover a number of countries and issues from 1914 to 1970 stressing the reluctance with which Britain ceded hegemony in the region An epilogue focuses on Anglo American relations and concerns in Latin America in the more recent past The chapters all written by leading scholars on their particular subjects are based on original research in a wide variety of archives going beyond the standard Foreign Office and State Department sources to which most earlier scholars were confined The Art of Brevity Per Winther, Jakob Lothe, Hans H. Skei, 2004 The Art of Brevity gathers fresh ideas about the theory and writing of short fiction from around the globe to produce an international inclusive exploration of the steadily growing field of short story studies Though Anglo American scholars have served as the primary developers of contemporary short story theory since the field s inception in the 1960s this volume adds the contributions of scholars living in other parts of the world Such Anglo American pioneers as Mary Rohrberger Charles May Susan Lohafer and John Gerlach join with short fiction scholars at universities in Norway Denmark Sweden and Canada to build academic bridges and expand the field geographically as well as conceptually Contributors to the volume weave together themes of time space compression mystery reader response and narrative closure They discuss writers as varied as Edgar Allan Poe Nathaniel Hawthorne Herman Melville Sarah Orne Jewett James Joyce Franz Kafka Ernest Hemingway Mavis Gallant Flannery O Connor Eudora Welty Margaret Atwood Alice Munro and Robert Olen Butler the nineteenth century queer short story and contemporary Danish short shorts

Handbook of the Geometry of Banach Spaces, 2001-08-15 The Handbook presents an overview of most aspects of modern Banach space theory and its applications The up to date surveys authored by leading research workers in the area are written to be accessible to a wide audience In addition to presenting the state of the art of Banach space theory the surveys discuss the relation of the subject with such areas as harmonic analysis complex analysis classical convexity probability theory operator theory combinatorics logic geometric measure theory and partial differential equations The Handbook begins with a chapter on basic concepts in Banachspace theory which contains all the background needed for reading any other chapter in the Handbook Each of the twenty one articles in this volume after the basic concepts chapter is devoted to one specific direction of Banach space theory or its applications Each article contains a motivated introduction as well as an exposition of the main results methods and open problems in its specific direction Most have an extensive bibliography Many articles contain new proofs of known results as well as expositions of proofs which are hard to locate in the literature or are only outlined in the original research papers As well as being valuable to experienced researchers in Banach space theory the Handbook should be an outstanding source for inspiration and information to graduate students and beginning researchers The Handbook will be useful for mathematicians who want to get an idea of the various developments in Banach space theory
