Edwards, 2005 The pre 1960 history of print culture and libraries as they relate to the First Peoples of Canada has gone largely untold Paper Talk explores the relationship between the introduction of western print culture to Aboriginal peoples by missionaries the development of libraries in the Indian schools in the nineteenth century and the establishment of community accessible collections in the twentieth century While missionaries and the Department of Indian Affairs envisioned books and libraries as assimilative and civilizing tools Edwards shows that some Aboriginal peoples articulated western ideas of print culture literacy books and libraries as tools to assist their own cultural social and political aspirations This text also serves to illustrate that the contemporary struggle of Aboriginal peoples in Canada to establish libraries in communities has a historical basis and that many of the obstacles faced today are remarkably similar to those encountered by earlier generations Physics of Intercalation Compounds L. Pietronero, E. Tosatti, 2012-12-06 When an area of research is in fast growth it often happens that no one single journal is to be found where most of the relevant publications are contained Such is the case of the physics of intercalation compounds a field which by sitting at a corner point between materials science solid state physics and chemistry finds its contributions largely scattered about in the literature Given these circumstances it is of crucial interest to find a place where the most recent contributions and up to date references can be found at once For intercalated graphite and other similar compounds this role has been played so far by proceedings of international conferences such as La Napoule 1977 Nijmegen 1979 Provincetown 1980 and Sendai 1980 The present book is an ideal continuation of this series as it contains most of the invited and contributed papers of the Trieste International Conference on the Physics of Intercalation Compounds held in Trieste Italy during the week 6-10 July 1981 The main emphasis is on intercalated graphite though several interesting contributions deal with other materials such as polyacetylene and transition metal compounds or with general problems such as two dimensional melting The book is divided into six sections Structure and General Properties Electronic Properties Stability and Phonons Ordering and Phase Transitions Magnetic Resonance and Transport Properties reflecting the main areas of interest and also broadly the main discussion sessions of the Conference

Publishers, Readers and the Great War Vincent Trott,2017-10-05 Literature is at the heart of popular understandings of the First World War in Britain and has perpetuated a popular memory of the conflict centred on disillusionment horror and futility This book examines how and why literature has had this impact exploring the role played by authors publishers and readers in constructing the memory of the war since 1918 It demonstrates that publishers were as influential as authors in shaping perceptions of the conflict and it provides a detailed analysis of critical and popular responses to war books tracing the evolution of readers attitudes to the war between 1918 and 2014 By exploring the cultural legacy of the war from these two previously overlooked perspectives Vincent Trott offers fresh insights regarding the emergence of a collective memory of the First World War in Britain Drawing on a broad range of primary source material including publishers correspondence dust jackets adverts book reviews and diary entries and examining canonical authors such as Wilfred Owen Siegfried Sassoon and Vera Brittain alongside long forgotten texts and more recent autobiographical works by Harry Patch and Henry Allingham Publishers Readers and the Great War provides a rich and nuanced analysis of the climate within which First World War literature was written published and received since 1918 Petroleum Facts and Figures American Petroleum Institute,1959 Assisting Emigration to Upper Canada Wendy Cameron,Mary McDougall Maude,2000-08-30 Using a rich collection of contemporary sources this study focuses on one group of English immigrants sent to Upper Canada from Sussex and other southern counties with the aid of parishes and landlords In Part One Wendy Cameron follows the work of the Petworth Emigration Committee over six years and trace how the immigrants were received in each of these years In Part Two Mary McDougall Maude presents a complete list of emigrants on Petworth ships from 1832 to 1837 including details of their background family reconstructions and additional information drawn from Canadian sources Paternalism strong enough to slow the wheels of change is embodied here in Thomas Sockett the organizer of the Petworth emigrations and his patron the Earl of Egremont and in Lieutenant Governor Sir John Colborne in Upper Canada The friction created as these men sought to sustain older values in the relationship between rich and poor highlights the shift in British emigration policy In these years of transition immigrants sent by the Petworth Emigration Committee could accept assistance and the government direction that went with it or they could rely on their own resources and find work for themselves Once the transition was complete the market driven model took over and immigrants had to make their own best bargain for their labour Sleep Carlos Schenck,2007 The average adult will spend more than 200 000 hours sleeping in a lifetime the equivalent of more than 8 000 days Yet research has only just begun to decode the mysteries behind what really happens when we sleep Now Dr Carlos Schenck one of the most prominent sleep doctors and researchers in the country takes us on an extraordinary journey into the mechanisms of sleep and what can go wrong Dr Schenck explains and then offers solutions for the most common sleep disorders insomnia restless legs syndrome sleep apnea and more But what sets this book apart is the fascinating new insights Schenck offers from the cutting edge science that he and other researchers have pioneered in identifying understanding and explaining the realm of parasomnias mysterious more extreme sleep disorders such as sleep terrors sleepwalking dream enactment sleep violence sleep related eating disorder sexsomnia sleep paralysis which affect at least 10 percent of Americans Environmental Ethics ,2003 The Battle for the Migrants Torsten Feys,2017-10-18 This book approaches the well documented study of European mass migration to the United States of America from the viewpoint of mass migration as a business venture The overall purpose is to demonstrate that maritime and migration histories are interlinked and dependent on a deeper understanding of the social economic and political factors at work in the nineteenth century Atlantic community It centres on both the evolution of the port of Rotterdam as a migration gateway and the crucial role of the Holland America line as a regulator of the North American passenger trade The first part of the book explores the simultaneous rise of transatlantic mass migration and long distance steamshipping between 1830 to 1870 The second part divided into five chapters explores how mass migration became a big business between 1870 and 1914 and scrutinises how steamship companies organised and provided initiatives for transoceanic migration plus the role of shipping agents and agent networks and how passenger services were constructed within transatlantic networks Over the course of the text it becomes increasingly clear that by approaching mass migration as a trade issue the role of steamship companies in the facilitation of transatlantic migration is rendered both intrinsic and pivotal It consists of an introduction containing contextual information two sections providing historical overviews five chapters exploring different aspects of the shipping industry s response to mass migration conclusion bibliography and six appendices of passenger destination agent and advertising statistics
