Research Dept.,2015-04-14 Global growth remains moderate and uneven and a number of complex forces are shaping the outlook These include medium and long term trends global shocks and many country or region specific factors The April 2015 WEO examines the causes and implications of recent trends including lower oil prices which are providing a boost to growth globally and in many oil importing countries but are weighing on activity in oil exporting countries and substantial changes in exchange rates for major currencies reflecting variations in country growth rates and in exchange rate policies and the lower price of oil Additionally analytical chapters explore the growth rate of potential output across advanced and emerging market economies assessing its recent track and likely future course and the performance of private fixed investment in advanced economies which has featured prominently in the public policy debate in recent years focusing on the role of overall economic weakness in accounting for this performance Singapore Biennale 2016 Susie Lingham,2016 Statistics of Foreign Trade Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development,1972 Detailed analysis by products Sistematcheskii katalog, 1875-1910 Obshchestvo vzaïmnogo vospomoshchestvovaniia prikazchikov evreev, Odessa. Biblioteka im. S.L. Bernfel'da,1910 Fields Medallists' Lectures Michael Atiyah,Daniel Jagolnitzer,1997-10-13 Although the Fields Medal does not have the same public recognition as the Nobel Prizes they share a similar intellectual standing It is restricted to one field that of mathematics and an age limit of 40 has become an accepted tradition Mathematics has in the main been interpreted as pure mathematics and this is not so unreasonable since major contributions in some applied areas can be and have been recognized with Nobel Prizes The restriction to 40 years is of marginal significance since most mathematicians have made their mark long before this age A list of Fields Medallists and their contributions provides a bird s eye view of mathematics over the past 60 years It highlights the areas in which at various times greatest progress has been made This volume does not pretend to be comprehensive nor is it a historical document On the other hand it presents contributions from 22 Fields Medallists and so provides a highly interesting and varied picture The contributions themselves represent the choice of the individual Medallists In some cases the articles relate directly to the work for which the Fields Medals were awarded In other cases new articles have been produced which relate to more current interests of the Medallists This indicates that while Fields Medallists must be under 40 at the time of the award their mathematical development goes well past this age In fact the age limit of 40 was chosen so that young mathematicians would be encouraged in their future work The Fields Medallists Lectures is now available on CD ROM
