AUTHOR,2018-02-14 Excerpt from Annual Report of the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service of the United States For the Fiscal Year 1922 Bubonic plague is perhaps the most widespread of all diseases of a pestilential character in the world except smallpox In the early part of the present fiscal year this disease threatened to become epidemic in the southern part of the United States particularly in cities of the Gulf coast but prompt and radical measures applied to local conditions in Galveston Beaumont and Pensacola where the disease had gained a foothold and the continuation of the measures already in force in New Orleans served to avert its spread Yellow fever foci were reported during the year in widely scattered areas on both the eastern and western coasts of Mexico the eastern coast of Central America and certain portions of the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of South America In spite of close and active commercial relations with infected ports and the occurrence of five cases of this disease on ships arriving at domestic ports situated in infectible territory the disease was successfully excluded from our country About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
