Stochastic Processes and their Applications M.J. Beckmann, M.N. Gopalan, R. Subramanian, 2012-12-06 A volume of this nature containing a collection of papers has been brought out to honour a gentleman a friend and a colleague whose work has to a large extent advanced and popularized the use of stochastic point processes Professor Srinivasan celebrated his sixty first birthday on December 16 1990 and will be retiring as Professor of Applied Mathematics from the Indian Institute of Technology Madras on June 30 1991 In view of his outstanding contributions to the theory and applications of stochastic processes over a time span of thirty years it seemed appropriate not to let his birthday and retirement pass unnoticed A symposium in his honour and the publication of the proceedings appeared to us to be the most natural and suitable to mark the occasion The Indian Society for Probability and Statistics volunteered to organize the symposium as part of their XII Annual conference in Bombay We requested a number of long time friends colleagues and former students of Professor Srinivasan to contribute a paper preferably in the area of stochastic processes and their applications The positive response and the enthusiastic cooperation of these distinguished scientists have resulted in the present collection The contributions to this volume are divided into four parts Stochastic Theory 2 articles Probability 6 articles Biology 4 articles and Operations Research 12 articles In addition the keynote address delivered by Professor Srinivasan in the symposium is also included

Lectures on Finitely Generated Solvable Groups Katalin A. Bencsath, Marianna C. Bonanome, Margaret H. Dean, Marcos Zyman, 2012-10-28 Lectures on Finitely Generated Solvable Groups are based on the Topics in Group Theory course focused on finitely generated solvable groups that was given by Gilbert G Baumslag at the Graduate School and University Center of the City University of New York While knowledge about finitely generated nilpotent groups is extensive much less is known about the more general class of solvable groups containing them The study of finitely generated solvable groups involves many different threads therefore these notes contain discussions on HNN extensions amalgamated and wreath products and other concepts from combinatorial group theory as well as commutative algebra Along with Baumslag's Embedding Theorem for Finitely Generated Metabelian Groups two theorems of Bieri and Strebel are presented to provide a solid foundation for understanding the fascinating class of finitely generated solvable groups Examples are also supplied which help illuminate many of the key concepts contained in the notes Requiring only a modest initial group theory background from graduate and post graduate students these notes provide a field guide to the class of finitely generated solvable groups from a combinatorial group theory perspective

Echocardiology C.T. Lancée, 2012-12-06 This Symposium is the third of a series of scientific meetings in the field of echocardiology held at the Erasmus University Rotterdam The series was initiated by Klaas Born who organized the first two meetings with great success These followed the procedure of two days of parallel sessions with invited speakers only This time we decided to broaden the basis of the meeting and have a three day program of parallel sessions combining invited papers free communications and posters We decided however to maintain one of the most striking features of the last meeting having the complete proceedings available at the time of the meeting We confronted the authors to be with a very tight schedule in order to make the book a true reflection of the state of the art in echocardiology As a result editing time was also very limited and neither terminology nor units have been completely standardized This book has three main parts The first and largest part consists of contributions on echocardiology in adults and is divided into four sections The first section is a general survey of various applications whereas the remaining three centre round specific applications i e ischemic disease left ventricular function and cardiac valves respectively The second part contains applications in pediatric cardiology due to the wide variety of topics covered no particular subdivision has been made The last part of the book is devoted to instrumentation methods and new developments
