Family Memorials Henry Bond,1855      The Book of Common Prayer, Etc ,1738      Illicit Riches Wim Klooster,1998 This book aims to revise the history of Dutch world trade in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries While studies of Dutch economic expansion tend to focus on the East India Company and its Asian empire activities in the Atlantic have been neglected Consequently their importance has been seriously underestimated By examining the transit trade in the Caribbean this thorough and original study presents an alternative view of the Dutch seaborne empire facing east as well as west The Dutch transit trade in the Caribbean revolved around Cura ao and St Eustatius small islands that did not have much in common with other colonies in the region Sugar and tobacco production in St Eustatius was never a prosperous enterprise and Cura ao proved to be unsuited for the cultivation of cash crops But enterprising merchants turned these Dutch possessions into entrep ts local counterparts of Amsterdam from where a wide variety of European commodities was sent to foreign colonies in exchange for tropical produce Although outlawed by French English and Spanish mercantilist policies inter imperial commerce became a booming business providing the Dutch in the New World with a niche which was much more profitable than historians have realized The Caribbean contraband trade thus helped the Dutch to survive the loss in the mid seventeenth century of most of their territorial empire in the Western hemisphere      The Book of Common Prayer, and Administration of the Sacraments, ... fortuitous when Col Leonard Smith stumbled upon a series of pamphlets published at Yarmouthport by Charles W Swift in the early part of this century under the name Cape Cod Library of History and Genealogy Although contributors to the Cape Cod Library included such celebrated genealogists as Josiah Paine author of History of Harwich William C Smith known for his History of Chatham and Amos Otis Genealogical Notes of Barnstable Families the series never reached a large audience and is today virtually inaccessible No library in the country holds the complete collection of 108 pamphlets With great diligence Col Smith put together a complete collection for himself arranged the pamphlets in the order in which they were published and then to make the material usable compiled an index of names From publisher description      Abstract of the Answers and Returns Made Pursuant to an Act, Passed in the Forty-first Year of His Majesty King George III.
