Considering the context of the present ecological and social crisis this book takes an interdisciplinary approach to explore the relationship between globalism and localization Globalism may be viewed as a positive emergent property of globalization The latter depicts a worldwide economic and political system and arguably a worldview that has directly increased planetary levels of injustice poverty militarism violence and ecological destruction In contrast globalism represents interconnected systems of exchange and resourcefulness through increased communications across innumerable global diversities In an economic cultural and political framework localization centers on small scale communities placed within the immediate bioregion providing intimacy between the means of production and consumption as well as long term security and resilience There is an increasing movement towards localization in order to counteract the destruction wreaked by globalization yet our world is deeply and integrally immersed within a globalized reality Within this collection contributors expound upon the connection between local and global phenomenon within their respective fields including social ecology climate justice ecopsychology big history peace ecology social justice community resilience indigenous rights permaculture food justice liberatory politics and both transformative and transpersonal studies Annuaire statistique de la Belgique et du Congo belge ,1963 Corruption, Integrity and the Law Taylor & Francis Group,2021-09-30 This book provides a unique interdisciplinary assessment of the global anti corruption legal framework It gathers top experts in different fields of both the academic and the professional world to analyse legal instruments in the attempt of establishing an interdisciplinary and comparative dialogue between theory and practice Befolkningen i København Copenhagen (Denmark).
